Idea Detail Level:
● ● ● Strong

In my innovation I used different combinations of principles and mechanisms which leads you to use this principles combination in various fields not only in lights sector. My HEIB is very much suitable for daily use as it produce very good quality light. In shopping malls and showrooms there is necessity of HEIB due to its high color rendering index, it is also best suitable for workplaces and street lights as it cover more area. *I got this idea when I saw a journal of American medical association says high CCT LEDs in outdoors cause melatonin suppression and circadian disruption results in damage of retina and loss of vision. Then I started my work to replace LEDs with incandescent bulb but the drawback of incandescent bulb is most of its energy is lost as heat and its short life span. And I worked on it and finally I get high efficient incandescent bulb with long life span and it doesn't show any blue light hazard and high CRI, good CCT and foot candle. *Customers will enjoy the benefits of this HEIB like high CRI, good CCT value, long life span, no color shift, very good light quality, and no blue light hazard where all these features are lack in expensive LEDs. *Companies will gain more profit from this idea because people are not satisfied with LEDs and it also damage vision and it is expensive. At this time people are more tend to attract to this new one which will make more profit to us. It is ecofriendly so government also receives it in good manner. *I would expect that the market of CFL bulbs and conventional incandescent bulbs will fall. And our new HEIB will deserve its best market place, and it dominates LEDs market also. *my HEIB is for the customers who will like to save the power consumption, and for the people who works under light for longer periods of time like office, study rooms, class rooms, movie sets....etc, because quality of light is very important here. My HEIB is also for ecofriendly users and government organizations. It is necessary in shopping malls and showrooms due to its high CRI which plays a major role in color perception of cloths and products. *My HEIB is not yet patented.

A detailed explanation of working and mechanism of HEIB is presented in ppt attached below.
